How to fill out 48-3200 — Dealer Acquisition Contract

Arizona · written against 48-3200 (R04/25), issued under A.R.S. 28-2058

</forms/arizona/48-3200-dealer-acquisition-contract/>

The form a seller signs when the car goes to a dealership and the lender still has the title. It authorises the dealer to get the certificate out of the lienholder, to sign your name on it, and to transfer it into the dealership's name - which is a lot of authority to hand over on a single sheet, and worth reading before you do.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank 48-3200 from the Arizona Department of Transportation, Motor Vehicle Division at <https://apps.azdot.gov/files/mvd/mvd-forms-lib/48-3200.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	DEALER	Dealer Name and Dealer License Number	The dealership and its Arizona licence number, with a business phone and address. Watch out: Take a photograph of that licence number before you sign. It is what identifies the business you have just authorised to sign your name.
2	YOU	Vehicle Owner Name and licence number	You, as the title records you, with a driver licence number or an EIN for a business. Watch out: The legal status box beside it has four options here rather than three. Other is for the unusual ownership arrangements - a trust or an estate - and it will need supporting paperwork.
3	YOU	Owner address and phone	Where you can be reached while the dealer chases the payoff. Watch out: Answer the phone. The commonest delay on these is a lienholder asking the owner a question the dealer cannot answer.
4	YOU	The second owner block	A co-owner, with their own licence number, address, phone and legal status. Watch out: Two owners on the title means two of these blocks and two signatures at the foot. More than two means a second form, attached.
5	YOU	Vehicle Identification Number, Year, Make, Model	The vehicle being handed over. Watch out: Check it against the registration you are about to hand across, because you are warranting that registration is the current one.
6	YOU	Lienholder Name, licence number or EIN	The lender holding the title, identified well enough for the dealer to contact them. Watch out: Get the payoff quote yourself first. The figure the dealer verifies is the figure that comes off what you are paid.
7	YOU	The second lienholder block	A second charge on the vehicle, if there is one. Watch out: Disclose it even if you think it was cleared. The warranty you are signing is that there are no liens except those disclosed.
8	DEALER	Authorized Dealer Agent Name, signature and date	The person signing for the dealership. Watch out: A dealership signature without a printed name is worth querying. It is the only record of who at the business took the car.
9	YOU	Vehicle Owner Name and Owner Signature	Print and sign, and a co-owner underneath. Watch out: Once this is signed, a title that arrives in your post has to go straight to the dealer. Holding onto it is a breach of the agreement you just made.

What gets this one rejected

- More than two owners on one sheet. The instruction is at the top: attach additional forms if more than two vehicle owners.
- Any correction at all. Also at the top, in the same two lines: void if altered or erased.
- An undisclosed lien. The owner warrants the vehicle is free and clear of all liens and encumbrances except those disclosed, and a second charge that surfaces later is a breach of that warranty.
- Handing over a duplicate registration and calling it the original. The warranty is specifically that the registration delivered to the dealer herewith is the original and most recently issued registration for the vehicle.
- Signing it and then keeping the title when it arrives. The owner agrees to deliver the title to the dealer immediately if it is received.
