registration-and-title-application/](https://sellmycarhub.com/forms/connecticut/h13b-registration-and-title-application/)

The single application that registers the car and applies for the title in one go, and the only document in a Connecticut private sale that both parties appear on. It belongs to the buyer and the buyer pays for it, but Section 3 is a block about you - your name, your address, the date you sold it and the price you took - and Section 6 is a certification that every property tax due on any vehicle previously registered in that name has been paid. A seller who has read Section 3 knows exactly what the buyer is about to write down about them.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank H-13B from the Connecticut Department of Motor Vehicles at <https://portal.ct.gov/-/media/DMV/20/29/H13Bpdf.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	BUYER	Owner's (Applicant's) Name and birth date	The buyer's legal name, last name first, exactly as it appears on the licence they will show at the counter. Watch out: This is the name that gets printed on the new certificate. A nickname here is a title correction later, at the full title fee and a fresh application.
2	BUYER	The co-ownership tick	JOINT/OR for one signature to transfer, COMMON/AND for all signatures. Left blank on a single buyer. Watch out: Connecticut's meanings run against the intuition of most people who have bought a house together. OR is the survivorship one; AND is the one that needs everybody present next time.
3	BUYER	Owner's mailing address, and the property-tax box	The mailing address, then a separate resident address if it differs, then a tick and a line for where the vehicle most frequently leaves from, returns to or remains. Watch out: That last line is not a formality. It sets the town that bills the motor vehicle property tax, and Connecticut's rates vary enough between towns to be worth getting right.
4	BUYER	Vehicle I.D. Number	Seventeen characters, copied from the certificate you assigned. Watch out: Copy it from the title rather than the dash or the door jamb. If the two disagree, that is a conversation to have before money changes hands, not after.
5	BUYER	Odometer Reading (Mileage)	Whole miles, matching the figure written on the reverse of the certificate. Watch out: Where the two disagree the department has to decide which is right, and the way it records the decision is a permanent legend on the next certificate.
6	BUYER	Section 3, Name of Seller(s)	Your name - both names if the certificate carried two owners - written by the buyer onto their application. Watch out: This is the only place in the transaction where the buyer writes about you. Give them the spelling from the face of the certificate rather than from a text message.
7	BUYER	Date Vehicle Sold, and Selling Price	The date and the figure from your bill of sale, copied across. Watch out: The reverse of the form sets out how that price will be used, and the answer is that it is a floor rather than the number. The tax is charged on the NADA average trade-in value if that is higher.
8	BUYER	Seller's Address	Your full address on the line below Section 3 - number and street, city or town, state and ZIP. Watch out: Give the buyer the address the department holds for you rather than a forwarding one. It is the address the transfer will be recorded against.
9	BUYER	Section 5, Tax Exemption code	One of five codes with an explanation beside it - and left blank, as it is here, on an ordinary arm's-length sale between strangers. Watch out: Code 1, the family exemption, needs the vehicle to have been in the relative's name for at least sixty days. Below it, Section 6 carries the buyer's signature under a certification about liens, insurance and unpaid property tax - and an unpaid town tax bill in the buyer's name stops the registration dead.

What gets this one rejected

- No Connecticut insurance card in the buyer's own name for this vehicle. A binder, a bill or a temporary card is not accepted, and without it the registration cannot be issued at all.
- A selling price left blank or written as a token figure. The department taxes the NADA average trade-in value or the bill of sale, whichever is higher, so the box has to be filled and the number has to be real.
- A property tax delinquency in the buyer's name in any Connecticut town. Section 6's certification is checked, and a delinquency stops the registration rather than delaying it.
- Section 3 left empty because the seller was not there. The buyer cannot register the car without naming you, your address, the date and the price.
- A missing lien release where a lienholder is printed on the certificate. Connecticut receives no electronic release, so the letter is the only proof.
- The wrong co-ownership tick. Choosing COMMON/AND when the buyers meant OR builds a car that needs two signatures to sell, which surfaces years later as somebody else's problem.

☐ Amber is what you write ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
