How to fill out HSMV 82050 — Notice of Sale and/or Bill of Sale for a Motor Vehicle, Mobile Home, Off-Highway Vehicle or Vessel

Florida · written against HSMV 82050 (Rev 03/21), issued under section 319.22(2)(b), Florida Statutes

82050-notice-of-sale/](https://sellmycarhub.com/forms/florida/hsmv-82050-notice-of-sale/)

One page doing two jobs, and the only one on this site written purely for the person letting go of the car. Filed on its own it is your notice of sale, which is what stops you being sued over a car you no longer own. Filled in by both parties it is also the bill of sale Florida asks for when anything on the certificate has to be corrected.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank HSMV 82050 from the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles at <https://www.flhsmv.gov/pdf/forms/82050.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Which of the two documents this is	Tick Notice of Sale to file the thirty-day notice, or Bill of Sale to make the same sheet the receipt both of you sign. One form, two jobs, and the box at the top is what tells the clerk which one you meant. Watch out: Ticking Notice of Sale means you complete sections 1 and 3 and the purchaser's signature is optional. Ticking Bill of Sale drags section 2 in and needs the buyer's pen as well. If you want both, tick both and get the buyer to sign - there is no rule against it and it costs you nothing.
2	YOU	Year, make, body type, model, colour	Copy them off the face of the certificate rather than off the tailgate badge. Florida abbreviates body types, and MPV for a people carrier is the one that catches sellers out. Watch out: If the certificate says something you would not have written yourself, the certificate wins. A description that does not match the department's record is the sort of mismatch that gets a form handed back at the counter rather than processed.
3	YOU	Certificate of title number, issue date and VIN	The title number and the current issue date sit on the top line of the certificate; the VIN is on the same line and under the windscreen. Watch out: The issue date wanted here is the current one, not the date you first bought the car. On a certificate that has been reissued - after a duplicate, say - those are different dates, and the department's record follows the later one.
4	YOU	The purchaser, printed, and where they live	The buyer's full name and their address, city, state and zip on the line beneath. Watch out: This is the half of the form that ends your exposure, so copy it off the identification they show you rather than off a text message. A notice of sale naming somebody who cannot be found is no better than one you never filed.
5	YOU	Date of sale	The day possession actually changed hands. Watch out: It starts the thirty-day clock in section 319.22(2)(b), and yours is the earlier of the two clocks running on this sale. Do not post-date it to buy yourself time; the date the buyer writes on their own application has to agree with it.
6	YOU	Selling price	The figure in dollars, in the box after the printed dollar sign. Watch out: The same number has to appear on the title itself. Two documents in the same envelope quoting two different prices is a question you will be asked to answer in writing.
7	YOU	The odometer boxes, one digit each	Tick 5 digit or 6 digit, then put one figure in each printed box. Whole miles - the .xx printed at the end of the row is there to tell you where the tenths would have gone, not to be filled in. Watch out: Six separate boxes with a comma printed between the third and the fourth are not a suggestion about spacing. A reading crammed into the left-hand boxes is the version of this form that comes back.
8	YOU	Which of the three statements is true	Reflects the actual mileage, is in excess of its mechanical limits, or is not the actual mileage. One of them, and the date you took the reading in the three boxes above. Watch out: In excess of its mechanical limits means a five-digit odometer that has gone round past 99,999. It is not a way of hedging on a number you are unsure about, and picking it to be safe is a false federal odometer statement.
9	YOU	Your signature, printed name, date and address	Signature on the line, name printed beside it, the date, and your own address on the line underneath. A co-seller signs the block below only if the certificate names one. Watch out: The seller's address block here is yours, not the buyer's - the two blocks look identical and they are three rows apart. Fill in the wrong one and you have told the department the buyer lives at your house.
10	BUYER	The purchaser's block	Signature, printed name and date. On a notice of sale it is optional; on a bill of sale it is the whole point. Watch out: Get it anyway. A signed purchaser block turns this sheet into the bill of sale Florida asks for when a price or a name on the title has to be corrected, and you will not get the buyer back in front of you a week later.

What gets this one rejected

- Treating it as optional. A notice of sale is what section 319.22(2)(b) requires within thirty days of handing the car over, and it is what lifts the civil liability that subsection describes.
- Filing it and assuming ownership has moved. The last line on the form says the opposite in capitals: ownership status will not change until the purchaser applies for and is issued a certificate of title.
- Leaving the odometer section blank on a bill of sale for a car that is not exempt. The warning above it is the federal one - failure to complete or providing a false statement may result in fines and/or imprisonment.
- Using it in place of a signed title. It records a sale; it does not transfer one.
- Filling in only the seller's half and then needing it as a bill of sale later, when the buyer is three counties away.

☒ Amber is what you write ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
