How to fill out VSD 393 — Affirmation of Correction

sellmycarhub.com

Illinois · written against VSD 393 (VSD 393.11, May 2026), issued under 625 ILCS 5/3-116

</forms/illinois/vsd-393-affirmation-of-correction/>

Seven numbered statements on one page, covering the things that go wrong in an assignment: signing in the wrong space, a buyer who backed out, the wrong date of sale, a misspelt name, two names that are the same person, a lienholder recorded in error - and, first on the list, releasing an interest in a plate or a vehicle. You tick the one that happened and sign under it.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank VSD 393 from the Illinois Secretary of State at https://www.ilsos.gov/content/dam/publications/pdf_publications/vsd393.pdf — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	The vehicle row	Year, make, VIN and plate number across the top. Watch out: The plate number is not optional here even though the row looks like a formality. On a plate release the office asks for it specifically.
2	YOU	Statement 1 - releasing an interest	Tick the statement, then tick licence plate or vehicle or both, then write in who the interest goes to. Watch out: Read the sentence under it before you use it to move a plate. Each person releasing an interest signs in the signature grid, so a two-name registration needs two signatures.
3	YOU	Statement 2 - signed in the wrong space	Seller or purchaser, check one or both, signed their name in the incorrect space. Watch out: This is the one for a seller who signed on the buyer's line. Only the person who made the mistake has to sign it.
4	YOU	Statement 3 - the buyer walked away	The purchaser changed their mind and did not take possession, plus a box for who actually bought it. Watch out: Each seller and the incorrect purchaser sign. Getting the signature of a buyer who has changed their mind is the hard part, and it is easier on the day than after the argument.
5	YOU	Statement 4 - the wrong date of sale	Two boxes: the correct date, and the date that was entered in error. Watch out: Both, in that order. Writing only the correct one leaves the department unable to tell which entry is being replaced.
6	YOU	Statements 5 and 6 - names	A misspelling on the Assignment of Title that is spelled correctly on the application; or two names that belong to one person. Watch out: Statement 6 is where a married name and a maiden name are reconciled, and it is also where a beneficiary whose name does not match their own paperwork is sent.
7	LENDER	Statement 7 - not the lienholder	My name was entered in error as the lienholder. I do not hold any interest or lien on this vehicle. Watch out: Signed by the person wrongly named, which means chasing a business rather than a person. Start early.
8	YOU	The signature grid	Seller or transferor and co-seller in the left column, buyer or transferee and co-buyer in the right, with a date under each. Watch out: Which boxes are needed depends entirely on which statement you ticked - the instruction is printed in brackets under each one. And note the odometer restriction before you sign anything: this form cannot be used for that.

What gets this one rejected

- Using it for the odometer. The note in the middle of the form is short and absolute: this affirmation cannot be used for odometer disclosure or corrections.
- The wrong people signing. Each numbered statement names who has to sign it - some need only the person making the statement, statement 3 needs each seller and the incorrect purchaser, statement 4 needs each buyer and seller.
- Leaving the plate number off a plate release. The Secretary of State asks for the Illinois licence plate number on an affirmation that releases an interest in plates.
- Using statement 1 to sell a plate. The text under it is the warning, not the permission: selling an active license plate in Illinois is unlawful and will result in revocation of the plate.
- Ticking two statements that contradict each other because both look nearly right.
