Indiana · written against State Form 13637 (R6 / 11-24), issued under IC 9-17-2 and IC 9-13-2-124

For the gap between the name on the certificate and the name on everything else. Marriage, divorce, a middle initial the BMV never had, a company that reorganised - all of them stop a title at the counter, and all of them are fixed by swearing that two names belong to one person or one entity. Three sections in parallel columns: individuals, business entities, registered Indiana dealers.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank State Form 13637 from the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles at <https://forms.in.gov/Download.aspx?id=4745&f=/in-sf13637.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Work out which section is yours	Section 1 for an individual, Section 2 for a business entity, Section 3 for a registered Indiana dealer. Watch out: One only. Three completed sections do not make the affidavit three times as convincing, they make it a form the counter has to send back.
2	YOU	The first name box	The name exactly as the certificate of title carries it, in the order last, first, middle initial. Watch out: Copy it character for character, including a middle initial you never use. The whole point is to bridge the certificate to the present, so the certificate's version has to be one end of the bridge.
3	YOU	The second name box	The name you use now, and the one on the identification you will be showing. Watch out: The one on your driving licence, not a preferred spelling. A branch associate is comparing this affidavit against a document in their hand.
4	YOU	For a business, add the identification number	A Federal Identification Number under each business name in section 2, and a full address for each. Watch out: Two different numbers means two different entities and the affidavit does not apply. If the number changed, what happened was a reorganisation and the BMV will want to see it.
5	YOU	Sign the block that belongs to your section	Signature of Affiant, printed name and date, immediately under the section you completed. Watch out: The three signature blocks look alike and swear different things. Read the sentence above the one you are signing.
6	YOU	Send it or take it in	It goes with the certificate to a branch, or by post to the Central Office address printed at the top right. Watch out: Do it before the sale. Once the buyer is standing at the counter with your certificate, a name mismatch is a second trip for somebody who is not you.

What gets this one rejected

- Filling in more than one section. Instruction 4 divides them: individuals must fill out Section 1, business entities must fill out Section 2, dealers must complete Section 3.
- Using it to skip a dealer reassignment. Instruction 3 forbids it in terms - the affidavit must not be used to circumvent or skip a dealer reassignment.
- Declaring two people to be the same person. The affirmation is about one person under two names, not about two individuals who agree to be treated alike.
- A business entity without its Federal Identification Number. Section 2 asks for one under each business name and it is what makes the declaration checkable.
- Signing the wrong block. Each section has its own signature row and its own affirmation wording, and the wording is what is being sworn.
- Bringing it after the sale. A name mismatch found at the counter is the buyer's delay, and it is your name that has to be reconciled.

☒ Amber is what you write ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
