ODOMETER STATEMENT

Federal and State law requires that you state the mileage upon transfer of ownership.

Failure to complete or providing a false statement may result in fines, imprisonment, or both.

I certify to the best of my knowledge that the odometer reading is the actual mileage of the vehicle unless one of the following statements is checked:

- | | | |
|-----------------------------|--------------------------|--|
| Miles (no tenths)
96,143 | ☐ | 1. I hereby certify that to the best of my knowledge the odometer reading reflects the amount of mileage in excess of its mechanical limits. |
| | ☐ | 2. I hereby certify that the odometer reading is NOT the actual mileage. WARNING – ODOMETER DISCREPANCY. |

SECTION 2- AFFIRMATION

Must be signed by dealer and purchaser.

I swear or affirm that the information I have entered on this form is correct. I understand that making a false statement may constitute the crime of perjury.

Not a seller's form, and it is on this site because a private seller who searches for how to sign a car over in Indiana will find it and think it is one. It is what a licensed dealer uses when a certificate has run out of reassignment space, and its own instructions rule out most of the situations people try to use it for - including every Indiana title printed since September 1989.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank State Form 20070 from the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles at <https://forms.in.gov/Download.aspx?id=4806&f=/in-sf20070.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	DEALER	The vehicle and the attached certificate	Identification number, year and make, then the title number and the state it was issued by, written into the conveyance sentence. Watch out: From the State of is not decoration. This form exists for out-of-state certificates that have run out of reassignment space, and an Indiana one printed since 1989 does not belong here at all.
2	DEALER	Name of Dealer and Dealer Number	The dealership's legal name, its Indiana dealer number and its business address. Watch out: A form without the dealer number is a form asking the BMV to accept a dealer transaction from an unidentified dealer.
3	DEALER	Date of Sale, Selling Price and the purchaser	Two money and date boxes, then the purchaser's name, address, city, state and ZIP. Watch out: If you are the purchaser, read your own name and address back before the form leaves the desk. It is going onto a title and nobody is going to check it afterwards.
4	DEALER	The lien line	Electronic Lien and Title identification number, name of lienholder, and the lienholder's mailing address. Watch out: The instruction inside the box asks for the word None where there is no lender. Writing it is the difference between an answered question and an unanswered one.
5	DEALER	The odometer band	The reading in Miles (no tenths), and the two numbered statements about mechanical limits and a reading that is not the actual mileage. Watch out: This is the dealer's certification of the mileage, not yours. If you sold them the car, yours was made on the certificate or on a separate disclosure statement and this one should agree with it.
6	DEALER	Signature of Dealer Representative	Signature, printed name, Position and date in section 2. Watch out: Position matters here for the same reason it matters on any entity signature - it records that the person signing had authority to sell the dealership's stock.
7	BUYER	The purchaser's acknowledgement	Signature, printed name and date under I am aware of the above odometer certification made by the seller. Watch out: This is the one line on the page a private person signs. Read the mileage above it first, because that is exactly what you are acknowledging.

What gets this one rejected

- A private individual in the dealer block. The section heading is to be completed by a registered dealer and the Dealer Number has nowhere else to come from.
- Any Indiana title printed after September 1989. Instruction 3 excludes it outright, along with a certificate of origin and a bill of sale.
- An out-of-state title that already carries three dealer reassignments, or one that states "No Additional Dealer Reassignments" regardless of the number used.
- A title that still has a usable reassignment on it. The form is for when the space has run out, not for when writing on the certificate is inconvenient.
- Using it to replace a reassignment somebody skipped. Instruction 3 names that specifically, and a skipped reassignment is a gap in the chain that this cannot paper over.
- A Certificate of Salvage Vehicle title. Also excluded by name in the same instruction.

☒ Amber is what you write ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
