The answer to an owner who cannot stand in front of a notary. Kentucky will not accept a signature it has not seen sworn, so an owner who is deployed, hospitalised or three states away signs this instead - once, in front of a notary wherever they are - and names an attorney-in-fact who can then sign the title, disclose the mileage and apply for the certificate. The Cabinet's own line at the top says it prescribes this form for use in vehicle ownership transfer, which is what makes it narrower than a general power of attorney.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank TC 96-336 from the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet, Division of Motor Vehicle Licensing at <https://transportation.ky.gov/Organizational-Resources/Forms/TC%2096-336.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Section 1, the vehicle being transferred	Year, make, model, vehicle identification number, body type and current plate, then the odometer reading into the sentence underneath. Watch out: The plate line refers to the plate on the car today. Since January 2024 it comes off at the handover, so it is a description rather than something being passed on.
2	YOU	Skip Section 2 unless there really is a trade-in	A second identical vehicle block, for a vehicle being handed to a dealership in part payment. Watch out: Two vehicle blocks on one sheet is the single most common cause of confusion on this form. Private sale, one vehicle, one block.
3	YOU	Section 3, the owner	The absent owner's printed name, email, phone and full address. Watch out: This is the person who cannot get to a Kentucky notary, and their details have to match the title. It is not the attorney-in-fact's block.
4	YOU	I/we _____, appoint _____	The owner's name, the attorney-in-fact's full legal name, and the attorney-in-fact's address, city, state and ZIP. Watch out: Full legal name means the name on their identification. A nickname on a power of attorney is a rejected application in three weeks' time.
5	YOU	Sign, and date it	Vehicle Owner 1 signature and date, plus Owner 2 if the title names two. Watch out: Sign it in front of the notary and not before, and make sure everything above the line is already written - that is exactly what the completeness certification says you are swearing to.
6	YOU	Section 4, the notary's own block	The notary's full legal name, email, phone and address, the identification they checked, the sworn date, commission number and expiry. Watch out: Warn the notary before you sit down. Being asked for a home or office address and a phone number catches people out, and it is not optional here.

What gets this one rejected

- A form signed before it was filled in. The owner certifies it was completely filled in at the time of its execution, and a blank appointment is the abuse that sentence exists to stop.
- One owner's signature on a two-owner title. Kentucky's AND rule reaches here as well, and the form prints two lines for it.
- A notary block with the notary's own contact details missing. Section 4 asks for them and the Cabinet means it.
- No identification box marked. The certification says the owner was proven to be the person named by the use of positive picture identification, so which one has to be stated.
- Marking an odometer designation that is not true. The boxed warning says only mark this section if the vehicle complies, and it is the owner's certification rather than the attorney-in-fact's.
- Using it for a purpose the printed scope does not cover. It transfers a vehicle and discloses mileage; it is not a general authority over the owner's affairs.

☐ Amber is what you write ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
