One page, and it is written as an authentic act rather than as a receipt: it opens Before me, the undersigned Notary Public, duly commissioned and qualified, and it ends on a notary's line. Louisiana does not always need it. The OMV's own rule is that a separate bill of sale is not required for a private sale where the selling price is included as part of the title assignment - so this form is what you reach for when the price is not on the title, when the certificate has no room for it, or when the buyer wants a document of their own with a warranty of title on it.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank Bill of Sale from the Louisiana Office of Motor Vehicles at <https://public.powerdms.com/LADPSC/documents/380382?f=Bill-of-Sale.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

|---|-----|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 | YOU | Parish of                           | The blank in the second line, after State of Louisiana. Watch out: This is the parish where the act is passed - where the notary is commissioned and where you are standing when you sign. It is not necessarily the parish either of you lives in, and it is not the parish the buyer will register the vehicle in. |
| 2 | YOU | Seller                              | The first long rule, under the words personally came and appeared. Watch out: Full legal name, spelled as it is spelled on the certificate of title. The notary is required to insert the full first and last names of the parties, so an initial here is a problem the notary is supposed to catch.                 |
| 3 | YOU | Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) | Fourth of the description rules, under Make, Model and Year. Watch out: Seventeen characters copied off the face of the certificate. The point of this document is to describe one specific vehicle well enough that the department can match it to the title file, and the VIN is the only line that does that.     |
| 5 | YOU | Signed on this day of, year of      | Three short blanks immediately above the signature rules. Watch out: Fill them in front of the notary, not before. They are the date the act was passed, which is the date the notary is attesting to, and they should agree with the Date of Sale box above.                                                        |

What gets this one rejected

- Signed before the notary was in the room. The whole document is built on appearing before a notary, and a signature that predates the appearance is not what the printed sentence describes.
- A price here that differs from the price written into the title assignment. The department reads both, and two numbers is a query rather than a proof.
- An incomplete vehicle description. The full description means year, make, model and VIN together - a make and a model without the VIN will not stand in for the assignment.
- Only one of two owners signing where the certificate names two joined by AND.
- A carbon or photocopy where the sale happened in Louisiana. The department wants the original notarised document, and will take a certified true copy only where the original is lost.
- No notary identification number anywhere on the sheet - see the rule below, because this one is the form's own fault rather than yours.

☐ Amber is what you write   ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes   The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
