Four boxes and a sworn sentence, and it exists because Louisiana taxes a vehicle according to where the vehicle lives rather than where it was bought. It is the buyer's declaration that the domicile code entered on the vehicle application is the right one, and that if any tax turns out to be owed to that political subdivision, it is theirs to pay. A seller meets it when the buyer lives somewhere that is not obviously one parish or another - a town on a parish line, a business address that differs from a home address, a vehicle garaged away from where its owner sleeps.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank DPSMV 1608 from the Louisiana Office of Motor Vehicles at <https://public.powerdms.com/LADPSC/documents/384709?f=DPSMV-1608.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	BUYER	Year and Make	The first two boxes of the vehicle description row. Watch out: Copy them from the certificate of title rather than the advertisement. A body style described one way here and another way on the application is a small mismatch that still has to be reconciled.
2	BUYER	Serial Number	The third and widest box on the description row. Watch out: This is the VIN. The OMV uses serial number on its older forms and vehicle identification number on its newer ones, and both mean the seventeen characters on the face of the title.
3	BUYER	Applicant and Date	Two rules at the foot of the page, under the sworn statement. Watch out: Signed by the person whose name is going on the title, and dated the day it is signed. There is no notary block and none is needed - the oath on this form stands on its own.

What gets this one rejected

- A serial number that does not match the vehicle application it is attached to. The whole document is a statement about one vehicle and the identification number is the only thing tying it to one.
- Submitted with no domicile code on the application it refers to. This form declares that the code on the application is correct, so an application with no code makes it a declaration about nothing.
- Signed by somebody other than the applicant. The declaration is in the first person and there is no room on it for an agent to explain who they are.
- Undated. The date is one of only four things asked for.
