Not a seller's form, and worth a page precisely because of who it belongs to. A leased vehicle in Minnesota is titled to the leasing company, and this is the sheet that records who is actually driving it. If your name is on the registration card for a car you lease, this form is why - and it is also the reason you cannot sell that car, because the owner on the title is a company and the signature it needs is theirs.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank PS2019 from the Minnesota Driver and Vehicle Services at https://assets.dps.mn.gov/files/dvs/MV_LesseeDesignation.pdf — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	OTHER	Section A, the vehicle	Year, make, model, type and plate number on one row, then the vehicle identification number underneath. Watch out: Type is the department's own vehicle classification rather than a body style, and on a leased passenger car it is simply passenger.
2	OTHER	Lessee's name and date of birth	Last, first and middle name with a date of birth, in the first row of section B. Watch out: There is room for two lessees. Both go on if the lease names both, because the registration follows this form rather than the title.
3	OTHER	Lessee's driver's licence number	The right-hand box on the same row. Watch out: This is what ties an individual to a vehicle titled in a company's name, and a designation without it does not do its job.
4	OTHER	Lessee's address	Street address, city, state and zip code. Watch out: The address here decides the county, and the county is what any wheelage tax on the registration is charged by.
5	OTHER	Section C, lessee removal	A name and a date of birth, and only where somebody is coming off the designation rather than going on. Watch out: It is the same form doing the opposite job. Filling it in on a new designation removes the person you have just named.
6	OTHER	Section D, the leasing company	One box: the name of the lessor. The form asks for no address and no telephone number. Watch out: This is the name that is on the certificate of title, and it is the name whose authorized agent has to sign at the foot.
7	OTHER	Signature of authorized agent	The printed rule marked X at the foot, with the date beside it. Watch out: The instruction on the face of the form is that it must be signed by the lessor's authorized agent. A lessee cannot complete this on the company's behalf, however cooperative the company is being.

What gets this one rejected

- A lessee signing it. The instruction is explicit that the lessor's authorized agent signs, and a designation signed by the driver records nothing.
- Using it to sell the vehicle. It designates a lessee; it transfers nothing. A leased car is sold by the leasing company that owns it, or bought out first.
- A missing driver's licence number. The whole purpose of the form is to attach a named individual to a vehicle titled in a company's name.
- No filing fee. The instructions say one is due and leave you to find the amount, which is a small trap on a form that has no fee box on its face.
- A vehicle identification number that does not match the lease. This is filed against the title record and the title is the leasing company's.
