How to fill out Form 4054 — Power of Attorney

sellmycarhub.com

Missouri · written against Form 4054 (Rev 05-2025), issued under RSMo 301.190 and 407.536

</forms/missouri/4054-power-of-attorney/>

The ordinary power of attorney for a vehicle: one page appointing somebody to sign for you, for one of three named purposes, on one described unit. It is the answer to an owner who is deployed, in hospital or three states away when the car sells - and, unlike the title assignment it stands in for, it has to be notarised.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank Form 4054 from the Missouri Department of Revenue at <https://dor.mo.gov/forms/4054.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Who you are appointing	The attorney-in-fact's full name, written into the rule at the top of the page. Watch out: Write it before you sign, not after. A form signed with that line empty is a blank authority to transfer your car to anybody.
2	YOU	The insurance block, usually empty	Insurance company name and date of total loss, sitting immediately under the appointment line. Watch out: It is only for appointing an insurer after a write-off. On any other appointment it stays blank, and the bracketed instruction above it says so.
3	YOU	The purpose	Transferring ownership, making application for title, or making application for registration. Watch out: These are separate powers. Ticking transferring ownership does not let your attorney-in-fact apply for a duplicate title on your behalf.
4	YOU	The unit	Year, make and identification number - the form's word, because it covers boats and outboard motors as well as cars. Watch out: One unit per form. A second vehicle needs a second appointment, even to the same person on the same day.
5	YOU	Printed name, signature and date	The first of three owner rows. Watch out: Every owner named on the face of the title fills in a row. Where there are more than three, the Department takes a second form rather than a squeezed line.
6	YOU	The notary	The band under the three owner rows, which is where this form stops being a piece of paper and becomes an authority. Watch out: The whole document turns on it. This is one of the three places Missouri requires a notary in a private sale, and the only one that is about you rather than a lender.

What gets this one rejected

- An unnotarised signature. The footnote is unambiguous - notarization is required for all signatures - and the only exception is an electronic signature to an insurance company on a total loss.
- No purpose ticked. The three boxes are the scope of the appointment, and a power of attorney with no stated purpose grants nothing.
- A blank name on the appointment line. Signing that and handing it over is a signed blank authority over your vehicle.
- Using it alongside a secure power of attorney. The Department's titling manual states the rule in nine words: a regular POA cannot be used in conjunction with a secure POA.
- Using it to sign the odometer disclosure where the title is simply unavailable. That situation is what the secure Form 5086 exists for, and the federal rules behind it are why it is printed on secure stock.
- One owner signing for two. There are three printed signature pairs on the form for a reason.

☒ Amber is what you write ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
