MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

Owner - Out-of-State Title Request

Vehicle owner and lienholder: When an individual relocates to the state of Missouri they are required to transfer ownership of their vehicle or unit from the previous state of residence to Missouri within 30 days of becoming a Missouri resident. To obtain a Missouri title, the ownership document must be surrendered to the Missouri Department of Revenue.

*If the lienholder is in possession of the title, the owner should obtain the title from the lienholder prior to applying for title.

*If the lienholder refuses or is unable to release the title to the owner, the lienholder should provide the owner:

A statement on letterhead indicating the title will not be released to the owner or this completed form and one of the following:

- A copy of the front and back of the title;
- A copy of the title receipt from an electronic issuing state; or
- A statement from the lienholder indicating the title is held electronically.

Once the owner has received the original ownership document or the statement indicating the title will not be surrendered to the owner and required documents as outlined above, the owner is eligible to apply for a Missouri title and registration.

When documents other than the original title are surrendered at the time of application, a one-year non-renewable registration will be issued. In this case, a Notice to Lienholder letter will be sent from the Department of Revenue informing the lienholder that an application for Missouri title has been made. This letter will request the original title be submitted to the Department. Please do not mail this form or the original ownership document to the Department prior to receiving the official Notice to Lienholder letter.

The lien will remain in force and the lien will appear on the face of the Missouri title when issued. Missouri titles are mailed to the owner, unless requested to be mailed to the lienholder.

Missouri · written against Form 5834 (Rev 12-2020), issued under RSMo 301.190

Not written for a seller, and worth a page anyway, because it is the answer to the situation that stops more Missouri sales than any other paperwork problem: you have moved here, the car is financed, and the lender in the state you left is holding the title and will not let go of it. This is the form the lender completes and notarises so you can get a Missouri title without the original certificate.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank Form 5834 from the Missouri Department of Revenue at <https://dor.mo.gov/forms/5834.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Your details and a Missouri address	Name, e-mail, a Missouri street address, telephone, city, state, ZIP and county. Watch out: It has to be the Missouri address. The whole point of the form is that you are now titling the vehicle here, and the county sets the tax rate the license office charges.
2	YOU	Sign and date the owner block	One signature rule with an eight-cell date beside it. Watch out: You sign this half before it goes to the lender, so that what arrives on their desk is a request rather than a blank form.
3	YOU	The vehicle and where it is titled now	Year, make, model, identification number, the state or jurisdiction of the current title and the purchase date. Watch out: The state of the current title is the one on the certificate the lender is holding, which may not be the state you most recently lived in.
4	YOU	The lienholder's name and address	First lienholder, street address, city, state and ZIP. Watch out: Use the address the lender gives you for title documents rather than the one on your statements. Loan servicing and title custody are often different buildings.
5	LENDER	Which of the two declarations	Either that the lienholder holds the title and will not release it, or that the title is held electronically. Watch out: They are not interchangeable, and each names its own attachment - a copy of the front and back of the title for the first, an electronic title receipt or a letterhead statement for the second.
6	LENDER	The agent's signature, notarised	Signature, printed name and date, then the notary block underneath. Watch out: This is what makes the form stand in place of a refusal letter on the lender's own paper. Without the notarisation it is neither one thing nor the other.
7	YOU	It comes back to you, not to the Department	The completed form and its attachment are posted to the owner. Watch out: Then it waits. The Department writes to the lienholder after your application goes in, and the form's instruction is not to send anything before that letter arrives.

What gets this one rejected

- Sending it to the Department. Marked with an asterisk on the form itself: mail completed form and documents to the owner, please do not mail to the Department of Revenue.
- Filing it before you are asked to. The form's own warning is not to mail it or the ownership document to the Department before receiving the official Notice to Lienholder letter.
- Sending the form without the document it names. The first declaration needs a copy of the front and back of the current title with it; the second needs the electronic title receipt or a statement on lienholder letterhead.
- A lienholder's declaration that is signed but not notarised. The Department's own sentence is that the lienholder may complete and notarize this section of the form to be used in place of the refusal statement.
- Using it for a title the lender would in fact release. Where the lienholder will hand the title over, the form says the owner should obtain the title from the lienholder and simply apply.
