Nevada · written against VP 019 (07/2022), issued under NRS 482.245 and NRS 490.66

/forms/nevada/vp-019-erasure-affidavit/

The fix for a title you have written on wrong. A crossed-out name, a corrected date, an entry in the wrong box — Nevada does not treat those as automatically fatal. Someone signs this to take responsibility for the change, and the transfer goes on.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank VP 019 from the Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles at <https://dmv.nv.gov/pdfforms/vp019.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Year, make, model and body type	The vehicle the marked-up document belongs to. Watch out: Body type is the one people skip. It is on the face of the title — 2dr, 4dr, PK for a pickup, UT for a utility.
2	YOU	Off-highway vehicle tick box	Only for a side-by-side, dune buggy, ATV or snowmobile. Watch out: Leave it alone for a car. Ticking it sends the paperwork down the NRS 490 route, which is a different department.
3	YOU	Vehicle Identification Number	One character per box. Watch out: Copy it from the document you are correcting, not from a second source. If the VIN itself is what you wrote wrong, say so on the description lines rather than quietly putting the right one here.
4	YOU	What the error was	Three lines describing what the mistake is and where on the ownership document it appears. Watch out: Be specific and physical: which block, which line, what you wrote, what it should say. "Wrote the buyer's name on the seller's line in the Transfer of Ownership block on the back" is the level of detail that gets accepted.
5	YOU	Affiant's full legal name	The person taking responsibility, across first, middle and last. Watch out: The person who made the mark, or the person being removed from the ownership documents. Not the buyer being helpful.
6	YOU	Licence number, date of birth or FEIN	Nevada licence or ID number, date of birth if there is none, FEIN for a business. Watch out: A business also has to name its authorized representative — the form says so in the paragraph at the top.
7	YOU	Physical address	Where the affiant actually lives. Watch out: Street address. The DMV compares this against its record for you.
8	YOU	Mailing address	Where post goes, if different. Watch out: Write "same as physical" rather than leaving it blank.
9	YOU	State, county, date, signature and notary stamp	The block at the foot of the page. Watch out: Note this one says State of ___, not State of Nevada — an affidavit sworn out of state is fine. It is filled in at the notary's desk and nowhere else.

What gets this one rejected

- Someone else signing for the mistake. The form is explicit — the individual taking full responsibility signs it, and if a person is being removed from the ownership documents, that individual has to sign.
- A vague description. "Error" tells the DMV nothing; it wants what the error is and where on the document it sits.
- Sending it without the marked-up document. The affidavit explains an attached title — on its own it explains nothing.
- Using it to change a figure that should not change. This covers a mistake in completing the document, not a rewrite of the sale.
- Signing it in advance. Notarization means signing in front of the notary, and no changes after that.
