How to fill out BMV 3724 — Odometer Disclosure Statement

Ohio · written against BMV 3724 (12/25), issued under Ohio Revised Code 4505.06 and 49 CFR Part 580

A one-page mileage certification on its own, for the transfers where the title's own odometer block will not do the job - a title that has run out of assignment space, a correction to a reading already made, or a clerk who asks for the disclosure separately. It repeats the certification word for word: the transferor states the reading and swears it reflects the actual mileage unless one of two statements is checked.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank BMV 3724 from the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles at <https://dam.assets.ohio.gov/image/upload/publicsafety.ohio.gov/bmv3724.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	I, _____	Your printed name on the opening rule, above the label PRINT TRANSFEROR'S NAME. Watch out: The name on the title, spelled as the title spells it. This is a sworn statement about mileage, and the person swearing it has to be the person selling the car.
2	YOU	reads _____ (no tenths) miles	The current reading, in whole miles. Watch out: Read it off the dash rather than off a service record. If the trip meter and the odometer disagree on which is showing, it is the odometer.
3	YOU	The two numbered statements	Check one only if it is true: mileage in excess of the odometer's mechanical limits, or a reading that is not the actual mileage. Watch out: The second one carries the words WARNING - ODOMETER DISCREPANCY into the buyer's new title, where a clerk enters it against the mileage. It follows the car for good, which is why it is worth being sure.
4	YOU	The vehicle	Make, body type, model, vehicle identification number and year, copied off the title. Watch out: The VIN row has no ruled line under its label on this form - the space to the right of the words VEHICLE ID NUMBER is where it goes.
5	YOU	Your details, the date and your signature	Printed name, street address, city, state and ZIP; the date of the statement; then the signature, with your printed name repeated underneath it. Watch out: The date of statement is the day of the handover, not the day you filled the form in beforehand. It has to match the date of transfer on the assignment.
6	YOU	The buyer's details	The transferee's printed name, street address, city, state and ZIP. Watch out: Same spelling as on the assignment. This form and the assignment are read side by side by the clerk, and a different middle initial on the two of them is a query.
7	BUYER	Receipt of copy acknowledged	The band at the foot: the buyer's signature and printed name, acknowledging that they were given a copy. Watch out: Federal law entitles them to one. Hand it over at the same moment you hand over the keys, and keep a photograph of the signed form for yourself.

What gets this one rejected

- Tenths of a mile. The box says no tenths, and a reading with a decimal in it is not the reading the clerk will key.
- Both exception statements checked. They are alternatives - the mileage has either exceeded the odometer's mechanical limits or it is not the actual mileage, not both.
- Neither statement checked when one is true. The printed sentence certifies the reading as actual mileage unless one of them is checked, so silence is itself a statement.
- A reading that disagrees with the one on the assignment. Two documents about the same handover that do not match is a discrepancy, and the clerk resolves it by believing neither.
- Filling in the buyer's acknowledgement band for them. It is headed receipt of copy acknowledged - they sign it when they receive their copy.

☒ Amber is what you write ☐ Grey is a block somebody else completes The filled-in example is at the start of this sheet.
