/forms/oregon/735-268-application-for-registration-renewal-replacement-or-transfer-of-plates/

The form for everything that happens to a plate without the ownership changing. A seller reaches for it in exactly one situation and it is a common one: you have taken the plates off the car you are selling and you want to put them on the next one, which Oregon calls a plate transfer and charges $30 for. The same sheet renews a registration, replaces a lost plate, replaces stickers and changes a plate design, and it opens by ruling out the thing people most often try to use it for — it cannot change or correct a name on the title, and it cannot change ownership.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank 735-268 from the Oregon Department of Transportation, Driver and Motor Vehicle Services Division at <https://www.oregon.gov/odot/Forms/DMV/268fill.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Line 1 — VIN and Oregon Title #	Identify the vehicle that is about to receive the plates, not the vehicle they were taken off. Watch out: This trips people constantly. The form is an application about the receiving vehicle; the donor vehicle is named further down, in Remarks.
2	YOU	Line 2 — Present Oregon Plate #	Whatever plate is on the receiving vehicle now, with its year, make and style. Watch out: If the receiving vehicle has no plate at all, this box is empty and the transaction is a registration as well as a transfer — which means registration requirements and fees on top of the $30.
3	YOU	Line 3 — special plates and motor power	The plate type being applied for written on the line, and one of nine motor power boxes. Watch out: A custom or group plate transfers like any other, but if the group plate carries restrictions, the person who qualifies for it has to be a registered owner of the vehicle it is moving to.
4	YOU	Line 4 — owner or lessee	Full legal name last, first, middle, with the Oregon customer number and date of birth. Watch out: The customer number is what makes the transfer work. Registration only follows the plates where at least one owner's customer ID number is the same on both vehicles.
5	YOU	Lines 5 and 6 — addresses and counties	Residence address, mailing address if different, and a county named for each. Watch out: Only the address for the owner listed on line 4 gets changed on DMV records. Additional owners change theirs on DMV2U.
6	YOU	Line 9 — vehicle address	Where the vehicle is primarily housed or dispatched from, if that is not the residence. Watch out: This is what decides whether a county registration fee applies, and Multnomah, Washington and Clackamas all charge one. A car garaged somewhere other than home belongs on this line.
7	YOU	Line 11 — insurance company (not agent) and policy #	Two boxes under the certification of financial responsibility. Watch out: The insurer, not the agency that sold you the policy. It is the commonest hold on an otherwise complete registration application.
8	YOU	Line 14 — plate type, and one plate or two	The passenger plate menu with a one-or-two pair beside it. Watch out: Two plates go on almost everything. Mopeds, motorcycles, trailers, campers, antique and special interest vehicles get one, for the back.
9	YOU	Remarks	The free block at the foot of the front. On a plate transfer it carries the year, make and VIN of the vehicle the plates were taken off. Watch out: Without it DMV cannot see which registration record is being closed, and the transfer stalls while somebody writes to ask.

What gets this one rejected

- Using it to correct a name or change ownership. The form says so in a line of its own near the top: this application cannot be used to change or correct the name(s) shown on the title or to change ownership.
- A plate transfer where neither owner is common to both vehicles. Registration only follows the plates where at least one owner is the same on both records, matched by customer number.
- A one-and-the-same statement offered to make the names match. The handbook rejects it for this purpose in terms: a one and the same statement is not acceptable for registration to transfer with plates.
- A plate transfer onto a different class of vehicle. Plates move to a similar vehicle — motor home plates to another motor home — and not across types.
- Plates that are not of current issue, not legible, or missing one of a required pair. All three are on the handbook's list of conditions for a transfer.
- An expired registration with a plate transfer, without the registration requirements and fees that go with renewing it.
