The end of a South Carolina car's life without a title. Where the certificate is faulty, lost or destroyed and the vehicle is old enough and dead enough, this affidavit lets a scrapyard take it - but only if all four statutory conditions are true at once, and the seller is the one swearing they are.

This sheet is not the form. Download the blank TI-014A from the South Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles at <https://dmv.sc.gov/sites/scdmv/files/media/Forms/TI-014A.pdf> — always take the current revision from the agency rather than a copy. Print this and keep it beside you while you complete theirs.

Every line, in the order you meet it

1	YOU	Section 1, the vehicle	VIN, make, year and model, in black ink. Watch out: The VIN is the whole of the yard's ability to run a theft check, and it will run one. A vehicle whose plate has rusted off needs the number found somewhere else before the paperwork starts.
2	YOU	Section 2, the seller	Your name, driver's licence number, address and a phone number where you have one. Watch out: The DL on File tick beside the licence number is the yard's, not yours. It records that they saw the licence rather than took the number on trust.
3	YOU	Condition (a) - how you come to have it	One of three: it was abandoned on your property, it is in your possession, or you own it and the title is faulty, lost or destroyed. Watch out: This is the only part of the attestation with alternatives in it. Everything under (b) has to be true at the same time.
4	YOU	Condition (b) - the four tests	Lawfully in your possession, twelve model years old or older, no valid registration plate affixed, and no engine or otherwise totally inoperable. Watch out: Count the model years properly. Twelve from a 2003 vehicle is satisfied comfortably; from a 2016 one it is not, and a yard that takes it anyway is risking a misdemeanour of its own.
5	YOU	Print, sign, date	Your printed name with a company if there is one, a signature and a date, under the felony warning and the perjury declaration. Watch out: No notary. The warning above the line is doing the work a notary would do elsewhere, and it says fraudulent and falsified documents are considered a felony under South Carolina law.
6	OTHER	Section 4 belongs to the yard	The SCDMV theft check with its reference number, the company name, two certifications, and the representative's printed name, signature, title and date. Watch out: They also have to report the vehicle to NMVTIS by the end of the day and wait three business days before touching it. If a yard offers to crush it while you watch, something has gone wrong.
7	YOU	Then deal with the plate	Nothing on this form touches the registration. The tag is still yours and the registration card is still live. Watch out: Send the plate turn-in application and the plate itself to Blythewood. On a car being scrapped the property tax refund for the remaining months of the year is the last money the vehicle will ever produce.

What gets this one rejected

- A vehicle newer than twelve model years. It is one of four conditions and all four have to be true.
- A plate still on the car. Condition (b)(iii) is that the vehicle does not have a valid registration plate affixed - which in South Carolina it should not, because the plate belongs to the owner.
- A car that still runs. Condition (b)(iv) is no engine or otherwise totally inoperable, and a vehicle that drives onto the truck does not qualify.
- Used where the title exists and is fine. The route is only open where the certificate is faulty, lost or destroyed.
- Section 4 completed by the seller. The verification half belongs to the demolisher or secondary metals recycler, and it carries its own criminal penalties.
- Scrapped the same afternoon. The recycler may not dismantle the vehicle until at least three business days after the transaction.
